Happy New Year everyone!

Hi there,

Let me first say a Happy New Year to you all! I hope you managed to close out a fantastic 2016 with a great festive period amongst family and friends.

Recharged and dusted down, we've prepared ourselves for what could be a monumental year for TQUK in 2017. Last year I really feel like we set up our stall and made our mark amongst Awarding Organisations across the country.

This was capped off with a remarkable FAB Awards win for Paul our Quality Manager in October, whom you might have seen celebrating across our social media feeds like he had just won the Champions League.

And whilst we joke about the way in which we celebrated his award (even if you live on the moon you probably caught our 'Better Call Paul' marketing campaign), an award of this kind also highlights the distance travelled and the hard work we have put in since 2013.

We're ready for episode four. 2017 is going to be great. All the best,

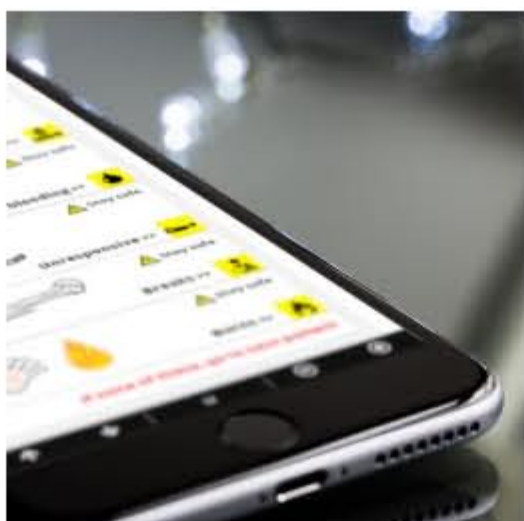

Andrew Walker (TQUK Managing Director)

Verve Centre Management is now live!

This means that we are introducing all brand new centres to the system right from the beginning and that existing centres who require quality assurance services will be directed to Verve to make their request. For existing centres, we will gradually be adding/updating all the necessary information to the system so that they can use it fully.
